Dr. Chris Richie
Principal

Dear Lassiter Orchestra Friends and Families,

It is an honor to welcome Dr. Charles Laux to Lassiter as we all look forward to an exciting year of musical performances. Dr. Laux has an impressive resume and comes to Lassiter with the highest recommendations from musicians throughout the country.

Welcome back to all of our extremely talented orchestra members. I know I speak for all the staff at Lassiter in saying that we are all looking forward to an exciting year of musical performances! I know how much time, energy, and effort you all put into perfecting your performances and upholding the Lassiter traditions that has made our orchestra program well known throughout the country. You all have a reputation of excellence and a tremendous sense of pride as our program has performed at some of the best venues in the country.

Throughout the year, I know that you all will benefit tremendously from being in Lassiter's orchestra. I love that the program instills beneficial values of constant motivation to practice and improve. It's always great to see our students develop new friendships with students who you share a common interest, and I always appreciate the musical teamwork that orchestra teaches as you sharpen your skills.

I am looking forward to hearing about the experiences that you will have this year and I am always extremely proud of our musicians who give their best efforts at every practice, rehearsal, and performance.

Enjoy the performance!

Dear Parents, Families, and Friends,

The Cobb County School District is fortunate and proud to have such an outstanding orchestra program at Lassiter High School. The entire music program at Lassiter High School has had a long-standing tradition of musical excellence since the opening of the campus. The dedication of students, faculty, administrators, and parents has made the Lassiter orchestra program an example of musical excellence and has provided students with extraordinary musical experiences.

Under the leadership of Dr. Charles Laux, the Lassiter Orchestras continue to set the standard for musical groups across the nation. These student musicians continue to perform in well-respected venues and events across the country. We are incredibly proud of the quality and professionalism of students and faculty.

We hope you all enjoy a wonderful season of musical experiences and thank you for your tremendous support of our fine music programs in the Cobb County School District.

Sincerely,

About the Lassiter Orchestra Program

The orchestra program at Lassiter High School has a long standing tradition of excellence. From 1993 until 2022 the Lassiter High School Orchestra program was under the leadership of Ms. Carol Doemel and gained local, state, and national exposure as a leading high school orchestra program.

The Lassiter Orchestra Program was recognized as a Grammy Signature School in 2000 and quickly became recognized as one of the finest high school orchestra programs in the nation. Orchestras have been repeatedly invited to perform at conferences and competitions across the nation. In 2001 and 2008 respectively, the Lassiter Symphony and Lassiter Chamber Orchestra were selected to perform at the Midwest International Band and Orchestra Clinic in Chicago, Illinois. This is the most prestigious honor a band or orchestra can receive. The Lassiter Symphony was also selected to perform for the 2003, 2006, and 2014 Georgia Music Educator's Conference in Savannah. In 2007 the Lassiter Chamber Orchestra and Lassiter String Ensemble competed in New York City at the Lincoln Center's National Orchestra Cup. The Lassiter Chamber Orchestra won Grand Champion of the competition and Best String Section. Both orchestras have been invited back to New York to perform for the 2016 National Orchestra Cup.

Other honors include an invitation to perform for Disney's 25th Anniversary Celebration, a performance at the Lincoln Memorial and a clinic with the United States Army's Strolling Strings (the White House's performing string ensemble), and a 2010 invitation and clinic with the U.S. Air Force Band and Strolling Strings at Bolling AFB. In 2004 the Orchestra competed in the American String Teachers Association National Orchestra Festival in Dallas, Texas placing in the country's top 3 orchestras where they presented an Encore Performance to conclude the ASTA Conference. In 2007 and 2008 the Lassiter Orchestra was invited to perform on stage with the internationally acclaimed, Barrage, to a sold out crowd. In 2015, the Lassiter Orchestra traveled to France, performing at the American Cemetery in Normandy and the Luxembourg Gardens in Paris.

This year the orchestra program offers a course for everyone, consisting of three levels: Concert Orchestra (Freshmen), Sinfonia Orchestra, and Chamber Orchestra. Students are placed into the Sinfonia and Chamber Orchestras based on teacher recommendations and an audition.

- Students form and rehearse their own ensembles to perform at community and school functions
- The Chamber orchestra students combine with members of the LHS band to form a full symphony orchestra
- LHS Music Ensembles are consistently rated superior at festivals, competitions, and GMEA Large Group Performance Evaluations

With gratitude...

Dr. Laux would like to sincerely thank the LHSOA board for the warm welcome and for their continued hard work and dedication to the Lassiter Orchestra program. The board's support and guidance are greatly appreciated by everyone. The students of the Lassiter Orchestra are extremely fortunate to have such supportive parents and community members who value the arts and, in particular, a quality education in music.

Interested in volunteering?

We would like to invite parents to volunteer to chaperone an event, head up a committee, or serve as board member. There are current openings and more open every year. We could not do what we do without your help!

Concert Etiquette

The orchestra students of Lassiter High School have practiced long and hard to present a quality musical experience for your enjoyment. The audience plays a significant role in the success of each concert. To show appreciation for students' efforts and consideration for your fellow audience members, here are a few suggestions that will help make the concerts an enjoyable experience for everyone.

Dress

The conductor and performers are in formal concert attire. It can also be special for the audience to dress up to attend concerts. This creates a feeling that the concert is something special – because it is!

Entering and Staying Seated

Try to arrive early for concerts. The doors may not always be open as the orchestra is setting up, but you will be rewarded with a good seat for your promptness. Once the music is started, do not get up or try to leave the concert until there is applause. Doing otherwise will disturb the musicians. In addition, the audience may create hazards if the lights are dimmed. The general guideline is to arrive at least 5 or 10 minutes ahead the performance time, get a program, and find a comfortable seat. Conversation with your fellow concertgoers is appropriate at this time, however all discussions should cease as soon as the lights dim and musicians start arriving on stage.

Quiet please!

There are some musical pieces that are so delicate that even quiet whispering, rustling programs, and opening candy wrappers can ruin the experience for those around you. Please be considerate. In addition:

- Please turn off cellular phones, and be sure to silence all other electronic devices
- Please do not take flash photography. This is not only distracting to the audience, but disruptive to the performers.
- No talking during performances. Your voice can be picked up by the audio recording equipment and is discouraging to fellow audience members.
- Refrain from calling out your student's name. Younger children may be inclined to try to get the attention of older siblings. Again, this is a concert and not a sporting event.

The orchestra welcomes younger children to their concert with the hope they may be inspired to learn, appreciate, and study music. However, at times the music can be startling, the concert program can go long, or the seats may become uncomfortable, causing your child to become restless. Please remove crying, fidgety children from the auditorium as quickly and quietly as possible.

Showing appreciation

It is appropriate to clap at the entrance of the concertmaster/mistress and then again for the conductor. Sometimes the orchestra will play several movements within a composition, and this will be listed in the program. It is best not to clap between movements in order to sustain the mood and momentum of the piece. If you are unsure of when clapping is appropriate, observe the conductor. Also, note that the conductor may pause slightly at the end. It is his way of savoring the "magic" of the music before the audience breaks into enthusiastic applause.

The Director

Dr. Charles Laux

Dr. Charles Laux is in his first year as the Director of Orchestras at Lassiter High School. From 2016-2022, he was the orchestra director at Alpharetta High School where his duties included directing five levels of orchestra, including the nationally recognized AHS Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Laux also serves as Essential Elements clinician, consultant, and contributor for the Hal Leonard Corporation. Additionally he is an endorsed artist/educator and clinician for D'Addario Orchestral Strings and Eastman Stringed Instruments. Dr. Laux holds degrees in music education from Ohio University, the University of Nevada – Las Vegas, and a Ph.D. from The Ohio State University, with a minor in educational technology.

From 2012 to 2016, Dr. Laux served as Assistant Professor of String Music Education at Kennesaw State University near Atlanta, Georgia. At KSU, his responsibilities included string teacher training. He taught courses in string techniques and pedagogy, instrumental methods, and music education technology. He also supervised student teachers, conducted the KSU Philharmonic, coordinated string outreach, conducted the Georgia Youth Symphony Orchestra Camerata, and served as director of the KSU String Project and Summer Music Intensive. Under his leadership, the KSU String Project grew to provide group after school lessons to over 100 students taught by 14 undergraduate music education majors.

Prior to his relocation to Georgia, Dr. Laux spent fifteen years as a public school orchestra director in the states of Nevada, Florida, and Ohio. Under his direction in 2006, the Winter Park High School Philharmonic (Florida) was selected to perform at the prestigious Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic in Chicago.

Dr. Laux served as a graduate teaching associate in strings and full-time Ph.D. student in residence at The Ohio State University under the supervision of world-renowned string pedagogue and researcher, Dr. Robert Gillespie. His teaching duties included teaching string methods and string technique labs for music education majors, supervising student teachers, and serving as assistant conductor for the Columbus Symphony Youth Orchestra Chamber Strings.

In addition to public school teaching, Dr. Laux was an adjunct faculty member for twelve years at the collegiate level, having taught music appreciation courses and applied string lessons at the College of Southern Nevada and Valencia College (Orlando, FL). He has also served as an adjunct faculty member at The University of Nevada, Las Vegas where he taught string instrument methods.

Dr. Laux's leadership roles include serving as president of the Nevada and Florida chapters of the American String Teacher's Association (ASTA) and as the southern division representative on the NAFME Council for Orchestral Education. He most recently served as secretary of the Georgia Chapter of ASTA and was named Educator of the Year by Georgia ASTA in 2021.

A dynamic presenter, Dr. Laux completed nearly 200 educational sessions at conferences spanning 26 states and many national conferences. He has conducted regional orchestras in Florida, Georgia, Ohio, New Mexico, and South Carolina. His state-level appearances include the 2012 New Mexico All-State Concert Orchestra, the 2013 Georgia Statewide Honor Orchestra, the South Carolina Middle School All-State Orchestra in 2016, and the West Virginia Middle School All-State Orchestra in 2018.

Dr. Laux has performed with the Las Vegas Philharmonic and the Nevada Chamber Symphony. In 2015, he performed as a soloist, collaborating with several members of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Laux remains in frequent demand across the nation as a presenter, orchestra clinician, conductor, and adjudicator. He resides in Marietta with his wife, Stacy, and two sons, Charlie (13) and Anderson (11).
